All good math students need to know how to handle data, whether its measuring it or interpreting it. By presenting the principles of measurement in the context of familiar situations, students will learn how to tell and write time, and also how to measure lengths. Students will walk away with the tools needed to organize, represent, and interpret data. Engaging text and visuals help to reinforce the principles of measurement and data. Matt loves when his school has a field day. Not only does he get to have fun, but he gets to practice organizing data, too. Readers will follow Matt as he organizes, represents, and interprets data about his favorite field day activities. This volume satisfies CCSS Math standard 1.MD.C.4.
