Hon. W. T. Willey, now United States Senator, wrote to his friends at Morgantown to prepare for war - the State would secede. They must look for the worst. On the 22d of the same month a mass meeting was held at that place; that being court day, it was expected that speakers on both sides would be present, to address the people. A delegation of four hundred Union men came from the east end of the county. Before they came into town they halted, and passed a resolution with General Jackson s oath, that no secessionist should speak in town that day. They kept their oath. At one o clock, with drum and fife, and national flags carried by different delegations, flags displayed from...
